

2 TOUCHDOWNS; FIELD GOAL

Spaulding Secured from Montpelier Seminary, Thus
Making Score of 15 to 0

GAME WAS PLAYED
ON A WET FIELD

Fumbles Were Frequent
and Many Punts
Were Missed

Played on a wet field, with a slippery ball, a stiff wind blowing across the field and in a drizzling rain, the football game Saturday afternoon between Spaulding high school and Montpelier seminary on the Lincoln campus was hardly a fair exhibition of the football ability of either team. This was the second game between the two schools this season and resulted in a victory for Spaulding by a score of 15 to 0. The game as a whole was clean, and a hard fight from start to finish. The wet ball caused many fumbles and over-aggression on the part of the Montpelier players caused them to receive many penalties for offside play.

The latter team, though badly handicapped by the loss of Bishop and Capt. Pike, held the local boys for downs more than once and in punting and forward passing seemed superior to the Spaulding aggregation. The Spaulding line, however, was a difficult obstacle in the way when the capital city team tried to gain through it, and the team as a whole followed the ball well.

The worst feature of the whole game was the lack of support which the Spaulding rooters should be giving their team. Very few of the students were even present, to say nothing of any such thing as organized cheering, which a school the size of Spaulding should have.

The first period of the game was a punting battle. The seminary kicked off and after several penalties had been inflicted on Montpelier for offside and Spaulding had unsuccessfully tried three forward passes, both teams resorted to punts until the end of the quarter, neither side scoring.

The beginning of the second period found the ball in Spaulding's possession on Montpelier's 42-yard line. Following an exchange of punts Spaulding got the ball on the 12-yard line, and after the unsuccessful attempt at the line Smith sent a drop kick over the bar. This ended the scoring for this quarter and the teams went to their dressing rooms with the score 3 to 0 in favor of Spaulding.

At the beginning of the second half Watson took Cole's place at left guard for the high school. Spaulding kicked off but soon got possession of the ball in midfield and Smith broke away for a touchdown. The try at a goal was a failure.

Soon after this Montpelier came near scoring. After getting possession of the ball by forcing Spaulding to punt, she tried a couple of forward passes, one after the other. The last one brought the ball to the 15-yard line, where only a lucky tackle by Smith saved a touchdown. Grani then attempted a drop kick but the ball went wide. The end of the period found the ball in possession of Spaulding in midfield.

Shortly after the beginning of the fourth period the seminary team fumbled a punt and J. Tomas recovered the ball on the five-yard line. A forward pass was attempted but Hatch caught the ball and Montpelier immediately punted. After a try or two at the line a forward pass to Maiden brought the ball to the one-yard line and the next play took it over. Smith failed to kick the goal and this ended the scoring. A feature of the game was the playing of J. Tomas for Spaulding.

YALE CHANGES COACHES.

Tom Shevlin to Have Full Charge of the Team's Development.

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 1.—A crisis has been reached in Yale football affairs, and with it a change in the coaching that is pleasing to followers of the Yale football eleven. Tom Shevlin, one of the greatest ends that Yale or any other eleven was ever graced with, will come from Minneapolis and it is said on excellent authority that he will take full charge of the Yale football coaching department right away. Foster Sanford, coach of the Rutgers college team, and a star on the same Yale team as Hinkley, now head coach here, will come to New Haven three days a week for the rest of the season to give the linemen pointers. Shevlin and Sanford are a great team in themselves and football enthusiasts here look for a big change in conditions with them running things and doing the teaching. It is no secret that Head Coach Hinkley is considered to have failed to deliver the goods, and whatever else may be said the students have lost confidence in him, and probably the players themselves have. It is charged that the Yale team has shown little football this fall, that is, little of the up-to-date brand; also that the players have been drilled along straight football lines, with little jabs into modern ideas of the game. Yale has been worrying over its situation for many days, and now is glad that it is sure of the services of men like Sanford and Shevlin, who will work in harmony with Hinkley. But it is stated that Shevlin will be in complete control. All these are the best of friends.

It will be remembered that when things were traveling at a rock clip in 1910 Yale called on Shevlin and in his brief time with the Elis he worked wonders. Yale looked in for two straight defeats, but Shevlin pulled the team together so that it beat Princeton, 5 to 3, and tied Harvard, 0 to 0. Yale will now turn to its game with Harvard and Princeton with more optimism than it has experienced this season. The material here was never better. There is the stuff in the well-built candidates and enough of great candidates for a rattling good eleven. It may not be too late to drag Yale back into the straight road. Anyway, Yale, smarting under three defeats, is more cheerful than it has been since the season started.

MINING DISTRICT IN NEVADA.

United States Geological Survey Report on Humboldt County.

The results of reconnaissance work in Nevada by F. L. Ransome have been published by the United States geological survey as bulletin 414, "Notes on some mining districts in Humboldt county, Nevada." The bulletin embodies the results of a reconnaissance examination of some 7,000 square miles, including the Seven Troughs, Rosebud, Star, Unionville, Humboldt, Fitting, Chasler, Kennedy, Adelaide, Red Butte, and Copper-cid districts. Some of the districts examined, such as Seven Troughs, Rosebud and Red Butte, have been prospected only within the last decade; others, like Star City and Unionville, reached their acme of productiveness in the sixties and have not yet participated in the recent general revival of mining activity in Nevada; one or two, like Chasler, have received new names and have been exploited in various ways that modern experience and ingenuity have devised for this purpose; still others, like Adelaide, have been intermittently active for over 45 years, oscillating between prosperity and decay. Mr. Ransome discusses the mineralogy, geology, and mining operations of the region. His conclusion is that the southern portion of Humboldt county is part of a metallogenic province characterized chiefly by the prevalence of antimonial ores of silver with numerous widely scattered deposits of stibnite and stibiconite. These are in addition some deposits of gold-silver, copper, and nickel-cobalt ores. Ore deposition probably began immediately after the intrusion of the Triassic and Jurassic sediments in late Mesozoic time by a granite igneous rock of the same kind as that which invaded the sedimentary rocks of the Sierra Nevada at the same period and continued into the Tertiary. The known Tertiary deposits are essentially gold-silver ores and copper ores, but it is possible that some of the other types are also Tertiary.

"We have breakfast from six to eleven, dinner from eleven to three, and supper from three to eight," explained the clerk. Army and Navy Go Down—
Amherst Loses to Dartmouth

Colgate made a very impressive showing on the Yale bowl Saturday. No team has ever scored on Larry Bankart's powerful eleven thus far. Certainly Yale showed that scoring on Colgate was an extremely difficult matter. The Elis were played off their feet, outmached and outclassed. Harvard got away with Penn State, Princeton with Williams and Dartmouth with Amherst, Lafayette trouncing Pennsylvania. The Aggies played Tufts an even battle, 14 to 14. Cornell's total points were given a boost. Syracuse flogged Michigan and Villanova did likewise to the Army. The Navy also was a loser. Michigan defeated Boston college on the latter's new field. Chicago won an important battle from Wisconsin by one point. The results:

At New Haven—Colgate 15, Yale 0.

CROWD MISSES PRESIDENT.

Wilson and Mrs. Galt Remain Indoors Until Annapolis Football Rooters Are at Game.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Motoring from Washington for an afternoon's outing, President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Galt, his fiancée, and Dr. Cary Grayson, his physician, spent an hour and a half at Annapolis Saturday. Their presence was known to only a few persons, although the White House automobile, trailed by a car containing secret service men, was driven slowly through the principal streets. Most of the residents were at luncheon or preparing to attend the football game between the naval academy and North Carolina agricultural and mechanical college.

After riding through the naval academy grounds, the president's party stopped for a few minutes at the home of Capt. Eberle, superintendent of the academy. There they saw Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Mrs. Daniels, who were week-end guests of Superintendent and Mrs. Eberle. The president declined an invitation to stay for the football game, saying he was just out for a pleasure spin and would rather avoid the crowd. He and his companions remained at a hotel where they had luncheon, until the streets were clear of the crowd on their way to the football game.

Reports were circulated at Washington Saturday that an announcement of the president's wedding date was to be made Saturday night but they proved to be erroneous. It also was rumored that Monday, November 15, has been decided upon for the wedding, but this lacked verification. The president and Mrs. Galt will visit Shadow Lawn, the future summer White House, near Long Branch, N. J., Friday. Thursday night the club will address the Manhattan club of New York on preparedness.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED VINOL

To Restore Strength to This Weak, Nervous Woman

Many fair-minded doctors prescribe Vinol because they know of what it is made, viz.—the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, peptonate of iron and beef peptone, without oil or grease, in a mild tonic wine. They know these are the oldest and most famous tonics. Read the result in Mrs. Mason's case.

"I keep house for my little family of two, and got into a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was tired and weak and did not know what ailed me. My doctor prescribed Vinol. I noticed an improvement before I had finished the first bottle, and I am now feeling fine and doing all my housework." Mrs. M. S. Mason, 203 Passaic street, Trenton, N. J.

Every weak, nervous, run-down person, feeble old people and delicate child in Barre should try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to benefit. Red Cross Pharmacy, Floyd G. Russell, Prop., Barre, Vt.—Adv.

TELEPHONE CALL WARNED OF SUICIDE

Message From New Haven to Springfield Told of Mrs. Burnes' Intention Expressed in Letter.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Muriel McLean Burnes of New Haven, thirty years old, widow of George Burnes, late clerk of the Bridgeport, Conn., city court, committed suicide by taking morphine in the Hotel Kimball Saturday, where she registered Friday.

A telephone message Saturday morning to Manager Leon L. Pierce of the Kimball, stated that Dr. George H. Nettleton of that city had received from Mrs. Burnes a letter written Friday night in which Mrs. Burnes expressed a determination to take her own life. Who sent this call Mr. Pierce does not know. Hotel employees went to the woman's room and when their knocks were unanswered the door was opened with a pass key. Mrs. Burnes lay dead in bed. Her silk kimono and a pair of dressing slippers were at the foot of the bed and her street clothing was hung in the wardrobe.

On a table was a piece of paper bearing the names of Dr. George H. Nettleton of New Haven and Judge Edward Nicholson of Bridgeport. Dr. Nettleton could not be located, but Judge Nicholson came to Springfield immediately. He said that Mrs. Burnes left a will of which he was the executor. He was given custody of the body, which was taken to an undertaker's to await instructions from relatives.

BORDER BATTLE DUE.

Villa and Carranza Forces on Eve of a Decisive Fight.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 1.—Three thousand men of the 6th United States infantry brigade were placed in trenches at Douglas Saturday within a few feet of the Mexican boundary, ready to interfere if an attack of the Carranza garrison of Agua Prieta, Sonora, by the Villa army expected yesterday or to-day should result in shooting into American territory. Brigadier-General Thomas F. Davis, commander, said he would take every precaution to prevent any firing into Douglas. "I do not propose to see an American town shot up," he said.

General Davis issued instructions to residents on the American side of the boundary to keep within doors, get behind adobe walls, and not to trust to wooden barriers to keep out bullets. Villa's advance guard, under command of Colonel Thomas Franco, reached San Bernardino, 20 miles east, on the border Saturday. Colonel Franco gave the first definite information that General Francisco Villa himself was with the army. He said Villa would arrive at San Bernardino yesterday, indicating that a battle, if a battle there is to be, will occur to-day.

THROUGH CARRANZA ALONE.

First Chief Will Not Deal with Foreign Government.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—General Carranza has made it clear through the foreign office of his government that he does not desire to deal with European governments through the United States and the officials of the state departments are now in thorough accord with his course. None of the European powers which have not yet recognized the de facto government have been transmitting representations through American officials in Mexico. General Carranza does not desire that foreign governments deal directly with him in the future. This policy is expected to have recognition of the Carranza government by the powers of Europe.

Placer Mining in Seward Peninsula.

A new element of progress has entered into the mining industry in Seward peninsula in the development of economies that render gravels of lower grade available for exploitation, says Henry M. Eakin of the United States geological survey, in a report on placer mining in Seward peninsula, recently published by the survey as bulletin 622-1. Among these economies may be mentioned the removal of hazard in dredging operations by systematic prospecting, the reduction of overhead costs by the formation of larger companies that operate a number of dredges under the same superintendency, reduction of fuel expenses by use of internal-combustion engines burning crude oil, a more efficient use of steam in thawing frozen ground, and a closer attention to economy in the commissary department.

In 1914 forty dredges with an aggregate daily capacity of 42,000 cubic yards, were in operation on Seward peninsula, and employment was given to 1,200 men for an average season of 100 days. The total production of the placers has an estimated value of 2,700,000.

A copy of the report may be obtained free on application to the director of the geological survey, Washington, D. C.

Report on Quicksilver Available.

The geological survey now has available for distribution its annual report on the production of quicksilver for 1914. The domestic production of quicksilver for the year was 25,528 pounds, valued at $811,000.

WINDUP OF CAMPAIGN

Both Sides Are Confident of Victory in Massachusetts

"FIGHT OVER,"
SAYS GOV. WALSH

McCall Campaigners Have a
Big Rally in Tremont
Temple

Boston, Nov. 1.—The Walsh and McCall campaigns for governor, with two more days to go, attained fever heat Saturday night. Gov. Walsh with his automobile party strooked through the Blackstone valley during the daytime and covered 10 Boston wards in 12 rallies at night, with bands blaring and red fire gleaming everywhere. "The fight is over so far as I am concerned," he told his audiences everywhere. "I'm certain of election. I ask of you now to give me a Democratic legislature or at least a legislature not dominated by 'invisible government.'"

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, leader all day and all evening for the Walsh oratorical show, said victory was now absolutely assured. "Mr. Walsh is as good as elected," he declared time and again. "The final straw was the utterance this morning in the Springfield Republican, the most conservative newspaper in New England, a paper which never before spoke even charitably of a Democratic candidate for governor. When a paper of its standard lends its support to a candidate, it is a proof positive that that candidate is the man for the job."

Mr. McCall's heavy artillery was unlimbered with power at a mass meeting Saturday night which packed the old Tremont temple to the doors. The meeting was addressed by Senator Calvin Coolidge, candidate for lieutenant-governor; Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, and United States Senator John W. Weeks. Mr. McCall will rest to-day and wound up his campaign this noon at a monster mass meeting in Faneuil hall.

Gov. Walsh's plans for to-day have not been completed.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DEFEAT

Foreseen by Manager of Antis' Automobile Tour.

Boston, Nov. 1.—Grover C. Hoyt, manager of the anti-suffrage automobile tour, made the following statement Saturday:

"After visiting practically every city and town in Massachusetts in connection with the anti-suffrage automobile tour, I am convinced that woman suffrage will be beaten in Massachusetts by a plurality far greater than that registered against it in New Jersey two weeks ago. Of course every supporter of the movement will go to the polls and vote, but I shall be surprised if the suffragists are
